which earried the Pilgrim Fathers to New England. The highly dramatic and magnificently produced picture, directed by Clarence Brown, affords striking parallels with the latest history of Israel: the persecuted minority, the "illegal inmigrant-ships," and the victory of faith. Spencer Tracy, with a proud record of sea pdventures, is the captain; Leo Genn is excellent as William Bradford; so is Gene Tierney. The weakest performance, as usual comes from that completely expressionless pudding face: Van Johnson as a carpenter. 'Davar' Hits G.Z. 'Tactics' On Percentage Clause

"Dever" (Histadrut) says that Abba Eban's visit, says that it was possible to demand a temper cent clause on grounds of high policy but when four per cent were later agreed upon, this thesis became a difficult one to maintain. The paper thinks that a four per cent clause would merely bring parties and groups to enter temporary agreements, and there is even some reason to assume that its application would hinder the process of recovery in this country. Nevertheless, Mapai has been ready to send this proposal to the Knesset mest year, and if the General Zionists inserted on doing it now, a construction of the whole connection with the present system Mekorot undertook the construction of the Parallel Pipe with Government funds as in the case of the existing line. The Jerusalem Municipality claims ownership of the Parallel system despite objection from Mekorot. The Jasue hangs in the balance.

Meanwhile, Jerusalem buys its water from Mekorot at 16 prulaper clam Mekorot at 16 prulaper clam Mekorot outended that a lower tariff was impossible, in view of mounting costs. It includes, by the way, a contribution to the supply of water for agricultural settlements.

The recent equalization of siscricity tariffs, which brought the Jerusalem rate down to charges elsewhere, did not case the City water department's power bill. Formerly, the department paid il pruta ber kilowat bour to the oilty pumping station, and Il pruta to the "booster" pumps. Now, power from both sources costs the same, 28 pruta, as the Palestine Electric Corporation compensates for a loss of revenue from Jerusalem by hiking its charge to pumping stations.

Even with the Parallel Pipe in operation, emergency calls on the water-supply will not be met with assurance until the Capital

Even with the Parallel Pips in operation, emergency calls on the water-supply will not be met with assurance until the Capital has more storage potential. The reservoir in Romenma holds less than two day's consumption. As a security measure, reservoirs with five times more expanity than the total capacity of the city should be built. The water department has drafted plans for additional storage. They await Government heip for their execution. The City itself pleads chronic bankruptey, as far as capital investment is concerned. The water department in particular draws up its budget with an estimated IL-250,000 deficit annually.

Despite the unpleasant truth that Jerusalem householders pay more per cubic metre than any other citizens (save in Manara) the water department still cannot balance its books. The department head calculated on the basis of meter readings that each room costs its owner between 800 and 900 pruta per month: whereas Tel Aviv consumers pay 700 pruta A further hike in the Jerusalem tariff, justified as it may ba would be ligreely opposed.

'Pamaz' Accounts Transferable

"DAMAE" accounts of foreign currency earned by the added value of exports, will be declared transferable in the future, but their use will then be limited to the import of three commodities; hides, raw cotton and soft wood, according to usually well-informed sources. The limitation will be imposed in order to reduce the demand for this foreign currency and to prevent its rise to a rate of exchange appreciably above the official.

In view of the present abundance of the sexchange commodities in the foreign currency and to prevent its rise to a rate of exchange appreciably above the official.
